Tentative Programme for the Conference session with an Iranian delegation

8 November 2017

The event organized within the Conference Session at Ecomondo 2017 would represent the opportunity to illustrate the opportunities of investment and technology transfer in energy and environment scouted within the project entitled “Support to Iran SMEs through investment promotion and technology transfer in energy and environment”, implemented by UNIDO ITPO Italy and funded by the Italian Ministry of Environment.

In addition, the members of the institutional delegation could disseminate first-hand information on their respective institutions and the sectors of interest, in the framework of the current institutional collaboration between Iran and Italy.

Finally, Italian and local companies could deliver an overview on the respective experiences within their sector of activity, providing example of best practices.

This event should disseminate detailed information on specific procedures, concrete experiences and suggestions for Italian technology providers and stakeholders potentially interested in the country.
